Good Morning Andrew,

Hope this email finds you well.

Aaron Green and I are with the Afriat Consulting Group, which represents business and community groups on issues related to local government. We represent some business stakeholders in Westwood and are interested in learning more about the proposed plans to create a new Westwood Neighborhood Council.

We are hoping we can set up a time to speak to you about the proposed plans of UCLA students to establish their own neighborhood council. If you would be kind enough to let us know when you might be available for a call, we certainly would appreciate it.

Thank you and our best.

Hello Denise and James,

I hope all is well!

We missed you at yesterday's meeting. It was eventful! We heard an hour of public comment (at 2 min each).

Ultimately, the Board voted 6-4 to to support Westwood Forward and encourage the voting process take place, and to direct and encourage dialog between the two organizations regarding a third alternative, and to ask the Department of Neighborhood Empowerment to conduct outreach to the Westwood Hills Homeowners Association and the Westwood Homeowners Association.

See at the next meeting!

Andrew,

You might check with Jim to see if he wants to set a specific timeframe for Michael and Lisa, as well as any public comments. I would suggest a 10 minute presentation by Michael and Lisa with each getting a 3 minute rebuttal and then limit public comments to 3 minutes per person. Lisa and Michael could allocated their time among multiple speakers, but the total time would be limited to the total allocated time. If someone speaks as part of the presentation, they would not be permitted to also speak under Public Comment. If you and Jim agree, I would suggest you present the plan to Michael and Lisa.

Hello WVIA Board members,

Late yesterday, I received a call from the Chair of BizFed, a large business advocacy group that I'm sure many of you are familiar with. I was informed that representatives from the Westwood Neighborhood Council, the Westwood Community Council, and the Westwood Rotary Club met with, and assured, BizFed that all Westwood businesses, and the WVIA, are united against the Westwood Forward effort to form a new neighborhood council. Because of this assurance, BizFed took a position opposing Westwood Forward.

I corrected the notion that the WVIA has taken a position (as of Feb 21st), and I also informed BizFed that Westwood Forward has support from businesses in our community. BizFed is reviewing their process and will determine how to move forward. The Chair did tell me that BizFed would not have taken its position had they known the WVIA has not taken a position.

It is troubling that the WVIA would be misrepresented in this way. I will reach out to leadership serving the Westwood Neighborhood Council, the Westwood Community Council, and the Westwood Rotary Club to express my concern.

Thank you.

Hey John,

[REDACTED]

I'll give you a ring tomorrow if that's ok. We're getting ready for the trash hauling town hall meeting now and that will take the rest of the afternoon.

This morning was fine. We had a lot of discussion, and heard public comment, extra from Lisa Chapman and Michael Skiles. The Committee ultimately passed a motion to dedicate the March 8th Board meeting to the discussion of the Westwood Forward effort to create the North Westwood Neighborhood Council, and is asking the full Board to make a recommendation at that meeting.

Regarding the BizFed train wreck, I asked Phil and Steve about it. They said they never said what the BizFed Chair told me I could quote her as saying they said. I feel for BizFed. They should have reached out to me to clarify/confirm. Now they are out on a limb and have to undue their letter. In the long run, this probably doesn't move the needle one way or the other since BizFed is not a local player, but they should know better.

Talk tomorrow!

I told him to fuck off in a small group after our meeting because he was so disagreeable, and I thought David Lorango was going to pee his pants from laughing so hard.

Cool!

You can park in the building. As an invited guest, I'll validate you.

At the meeting will be me, our Executive Committee (Jim Brooks, Michael Beck, Kifishia Kawachi, Jessica Dabney, plus a soon-to-be elected Treasurer), and then members of the public who wish to attend.

If this meeting is more about what kind of process we want to run, there may not be many questions for you, if any. If they want to do a bit of a deeper dive, then expect more questions. It's hard to say. I imagine a second committee meeting and then a later Board meeting would go more in-depth, but you never know. It's good to be there next week I think. If there are no questions for you, you can use public comment to respond to whatever. I'm ask Jim to be flexible on time for our guests.

The public is always invited to attend our meetings, so if you want to bring people, you are welcome to (although we only validate guests, so you can always carpool or tell people to figure out parking in other areas).

The agenda is pretty full, but I bet this item will generate the most attention and take the most time. We have Michael Beck until 1PM but I think we'll be okay on time.

Steve has been off the rails lately on public comment. The last two meetings he's gone ridiculously over his time and has been very combative when I've asked him to wrap it up. I ridiculously over his time and has been very combative when I've asked him to wrap it up. I think we are going to have to adopt the WWNC model of everyone just telling him to stop after his 2 minutes. I think you guys are doing a nice job.

Steve pretty much opposes every permit right now so I'm not sure his threat means much!

Yes, fireworks, I had to slam my hands on the table as Sandy, Steve Resnick, and Philip were yelling at each other when Sandy started her lecture. It was ridiculous.

Our alcohol motion passed though. It was revised, so it stands as, the WWNC's sample alcohol conditions are all ABC alcohol conditions, the part where if you want music, live entertainment, etc, that you should apply for the CUX permit, and that is it. Bare Bones.

I heard Steve Sann say he will just oppose every permit then. Wow.

The discussion could go in different ways, but my guess is that the committee will determine some type of timetable and process for evaluating options going forward. There may be questions and it would be great if you had representation there. I've told Michael Skiles the same thing. We are meeting at 10880 Wilshire, in a lobby-level conference room.

There are other items on the agenda so it may take us 20-25 minutes to get to the item.

Hi Lisa,

Thanks for yesterday. Neither you nor Michael had to come to our meeting. I'm glad you did. I thought we had a rough start, but we ended in a good place. I hope your follow-up and Michael's follow-up provides useful information and we can get to a third alternative that is acceptable to everyone.

Regarding your corrections to the review I conducted on the WWNC and the NWNC, when tasked with completing this review, I determined to make it as objective and black and white as possible. I only used information shown in your council-approved minutes. I intentionally did not add context because it could be construed as subjective and open to debate. In some areas there may be agreement, and in other areas I imagine some WWNC members have one view of an issue, while some of the businesses that have been agendized have a different view. Attempting to justify whether a business or item was agendized in a manner that I, or the WVIA, may find acceptable was not my goal. Attempting to determine whether there was wide community agreement on an issue was also not my goal, nor is it relevant to a study that is simply numbering and categorizing agendized items. Providing this kind of subjective context is probably not possible either, which is why I stuck to very basic information and hard data taken directly from WWNC minutes. I did attempt to make the report's objectivity and intentional lack of context clear at our Executive Committee meeting. Based on some of your proposed corrections, I'm not sure I did a good job stating this prior to the discussion. I will do better at the March 8th Board meeting.

For the record, I agree with some of the context you have provided. For example, I agree that the Marines are a poor ground-floor use. I also agree that the Verizon cell towers were a bad idea (the WVIA Board agreed too). But the point of my review is not to justify whether businesses or items should be agendized or included in the review, but only to categorize the number of instances in which they were agendized, and under which category they fall. I hope this helps clear up the review's intent.

Regarding your pointer:

regarding your points.

1). Page 4: The table of the North Westwood Neighborhood Council Representation is incorrect. You must use the language of each seat according to the WW Forward coalition by-laws, under board composition. The UCLA name must be removed from all of these seats, and not used in any presentation as such. - I have corrected the language used to represent the NWNC seats and removed UCLA from the description.

2). Page 5: The minutes of the January meeting were emailed to Andrew the day they were requested. They are also posted on the WWNC website. They are attached here. - I asked for the January 2018 minutes on February 15, before they would approved by the WWNC at your meeting that evening. You emailed the minutes to me on February 20th and I included them in the February 22nd presentation to our Executive Committee. They will be a part of the March 8th Board meeting discussion.

3). Page 5: Regarding the statement of 13 instances of: no live entertainment, no dancing, no video games, no pool tables, are in fact false. NO requests for any of these items have ever come before the WWNC. So this seems to be a moot point, and very misleading. The BID also does not weigh in in these areas for any business. - It may or may not be true that businesses have never asked the WWNC for live entertainment, dancing, video games, and pool tables. (It appears that Waffle Chix did ask at the February 2012 WWNC meeting.) I do not have access to what businesses may have been requesting so I have no way of knowing. I only see the conditions supported by the WWNC in the approved motions available on the website, and these conditions are very specific to say no live entertainment, no dancing, no video games, and no pool tables, among other things. It is true the BID does not weigh in on specific business and development. This is not relevant to my review, which is only to collect data from approved WWNC minutes to show impacts to district businesses.

4). Page 6: The Council's position on alcohol being sold at Target was support for a majority of stakeholders in the area that were against this happening. Almost everyone in the community supported (and still support) Target coming to the Village. But as a much smaller store, we found it to be unnecessary for alcohol to be sold there when within 100 feet of them, three other retailers were selling alcohol (Trader Joe's directly across the street, Ralph's in the same building, upstairs, and Rite Aid across the street.) There was also the issue that Ralph's raised in that their contract, it was noted that they would be the only entity selling alcohol in that building. The community preferred that Target add more merchandise instead of alcohol. Target's own lawyers stated many times that this was not an issue of money, as alcohol sales were only 1% of their business. The BID did not weigh in on this alcohol use issue with Target. - This is an example of why I kept my review objective. Target and TIAA CREF would have a different view of how this item evolved. I also attended meetings with a significant show of community support on behalf of Target so I disagree with your context. It is true that the BID does not weigh in on specific business and development. This is not relevant to my review, which is only to collect data from approved WWNC minutes to show impacts to district businesses.

5). Page 6: The U.S. Marine Corps was not allowed to be on the ground floor, as they were not food or retail, we were supporting the WW Specific plan and concerned for more lack of foot traffic to adjacent businesses. - My review is simply a counting of instances where businesses were agendized, and what category they fall into. I don't disagree that the Marines are a poor ground-floor use, and I know many people that agree. That said, the property owner believes that because the Marines are a Federal institution, they are not bound by the Westwood Village Specific Plan, and that the Marines are a good use, so he has a different view.

6). Page 6: Noise levels had to be addressed in reference to the W Hotel and Rocco's Tavern. The W's amplified music (which is not allowed per city ordinance in this zone), created at least 20 complaints from the public to the WWNC and also to the West LAPD, Officer Ragsdale can corroborate. Rocco's noise complaints and potential lawsuit threats came from the Gayley Terrace, the apartments directly adjacent to Rocco's and their planned outdoor retractable window. Not only did the WWNC find this to be objectionable by stakeholders, but it was upheld by the WW Design Review Board, and the Planning commission. If Rocco's had chosen to occupy the old Jerry's Famous building on Weyburn, none of this would have been an issue. - I am only tracking instances where businesses were agendized, not whether it is justifiable or whether there was agreement with the DRB or Planning. Rocco's will have a different view of how this item evolved. Also, Rocco's owns their building, I'm not sure it's fair to say they invited challenges, or simply being agendized, because they chose to be owner/operators and not tenants in a different building.

7). Page 6: The WVIA document makes mention of businesses coming before the council more than once, including the Broxton, Lemonade, D1 Café, and Rocco's. The Broxton was wholeheartedly approved by the council. They came before us again, not by invite from us, but ASKED to come before us again, because Steve Sann appealed them in building design and signage, and historical preservation to the building. Do not misrepresent this. D1 came before us on two occasions because of alcohol license request. The owner of the business did not comply with what he was told to do by the city and by UCLA, who had to issue a cease and desist letter for their adjacent property. The WWNC is often falsely quoted by the WW Forward coalition that we did not approve an alcohol license because the owner did not speak English. We never uttered anything close to that. The owner's OWN council was the one that referred to his language difficulties. - I am only tracking instances where businesses were agendized, and these businesses were all agendized multiple times. It is not clear in the WWNC minutes whether the business chose to return to the WWNC or was asked back. It's also possible businesses were agendized but decided not to attend. I have no way of knowing if it is not clear in the minutes. I am familiar with the Broxton item. I don't think they would agree that they have volunteered to be agendized repeatedly. Regarding D1 Cafe, they believed they had WWNC approval until they were agendized again and had that approval withdrawn, so I think they have a different option. Also, referencing whether D1 Cafe was discriminated against because English is not the owner's first language is not a part of my review.

8). Page 7: The Neighborhood Integrity Initiative passed by a vote of yes: 8 no: 1 abstain: 7 - I did not include vote totals in my review.

9). Page 8: Bike Lane suggestions after more study were noted to ask that the bike lanes be placed on Gayley, instead of WW Blvd due to aforementioned motions on this subject. - I listed these two agenda items because they demonstrate impacts within the BID boundaries. Whether there is agreement on Gayley being home to bike lanes is not relevant to the study. Also, I didn't list Gayley in the review because it was not mentioned in the motion. The motion included in the review is cut-and-pasted from approved WWNC minutes.

10). Page 8: The Farmer's Market issue was a hotly contested issue in the WW community and amongst the merchants and business owners in the village. Most stakeholders, and I believe the BID's own board believes Farmer Mark has not delivered, or kept any monetary promise. What we are left with is an inferior market. - the WVFM is within the BID boundaries and it is sponsored and overseen by the WVIA. This is the reason it is included in the review. Whether the item was notly contested, or the market is now inferior, or whether the item was presented to the WWNC using a motion that included information I know to be false, is not relevant to the study.

11). Page 8: I am pretty sure the WWNC and the BID agree wholeheartedly on the food use motion that was passed in December. - I didn't include this item because there was agreement, or disagreement. I included it because it's an item impacting businesses in the BID boundaries. Also, the WVIA and WWNC motions are not identical, but this is not relevant to the study.

12). The Broxton Plaza. This was never an official presentation, and was casually discussed as something the WVIA might want to consider down the line. There was not any motion to vote upon, it was a discussion item at best. - It is correct that there wasn't a presentation from the WVIA since our Board determined to explore the item further. However, there was a motion from the WWNC on this item (November 2015), which is why I included it in my review. The motion was Mitchell Keiter moved, "Having not heard the presentation, the WWNC does not support the Broxton Plaza project absent a presentation at the December meeting." Ann Hayman seconded, and the motion carried by a vote of Yes: 13, No: 1 (Sandy Brown), and Abstain: 1 (Stephen Resnick).

Lisa, I have changed the description of the NWNC seats per your clarification. I can't, however, add your context corrections to my review for the reasons stated above.

That said, I would like to offer you the opportunity to submit your corrections to our Board so you can provide the context you believe is important to understanding the deeper intent behind these items being agendized and discussed by the WWNC. If you like, I can email your corrections to my Board members in advance of our meeting, and have copies for the public at the meeting too. I will also be in touch later today or tomorrow with a plan on how both the WWNC and Westwood Forward can present to our Board on March 8th

Let me know. Thank you.

In all fairness, if the WVIA does not take a position on something, I am not sure there should be any comparison noted, certainly not as a contrasted difference between the WWNC and the WVIA.

As I said yesterday, I threw this together very quickly in the morning yesterday, after 4 hours of sleep, so please disregard any grammatical errors in this document. Even coffee couldn't save me yesterday.

Hi Andrew,

I appreciate you responding point by point, and I do understand what you are trying to do. However, I really feel that not only is context important, but details are crucial at this point. We are being presented, I believe, in not such a great light in many of these instances. I realize that you have to present things in a concise manner, but you are directly relating this to an eventual choice the WVIA board has to make, between the current WWNC and WW Forward, a group of mostly students that have zero track record, either as a group, or individually. It's not just comparing apple to oranges, it's comparing apples to nothing at all.

As you and I know, from many conversations over the last few years, that I have struggled greatly with the reputation of my board, and I still get sensitive when I hear others calling us (as a group) NIMBY's and against fun, etc. You know, the list goes on and on. I have been working so hard to change the face and actions of this board, while putting up with slander and questions to my character as I do this. I have diligently worked to change the culture with this board and to bridge long damaged relationships in the community. All while being an employee of UCLA for almost 32 years, and having to see both sides of that evolving relationship. But I believe in this board as well, in its experience, individually and collectively. I believe in its diversity and life experience. Every single person on my board has true love for Westwood Village, and they have supported

WW Village for decades and decades, both in patronage and monetarily. We have also gone to bat for WW Village for the Broxton Parking Garage potential sale, getting parking meter money returned to the Village, adding traffic improvements, and in helping to foster and maintain historic buildings. We consistently give almost all of our city money to 501c3 charities in our boundaries, as I said, more than any other NC in the city of Los Angeles. We have been working tirelessly over the past year readying homelessness initiatives to help specifically within our boundaries and directly in WW Village. I can go on and on. I am passionate about public service, about volunteerism. I have done it my entire adult life, and I will continue to fight for the underserved, and for that matter, this council.

Frankly, not providing context and some detail will not help us, it would hurt us. You have four of your WVIA board members that openly support WW Forward, and four who have signed WW Forward's petition, including Jessica Dabney, Peter Clinco, Patrick Nally, and Kevin Crummy. There seems to be no way that we can overcome that influence. Their minds are already made up. That is incredibly disappointing, and frankly so very frustrating to me. I feel we have already lost in the eyes of the WVIA board. I work very hard to keep an open mind to every agenda item that comes before my council, and I would have hoped that your board would have done the same. I don't think that will be the outcome, sadly.

All of that being said, I do appreciate the attempt to compromise, and to listen on behalf of the three of YOU. I have a great respect for all three of you, and of your accomplishments and contributions to Westwood.

Warm regards,
Lisa

As I said no one said BID had any position and it was not part of conversation but Westwood Business community and also Iranian – American Community in general are against it. Motion in support of Westwood forward /new NC introduce to BID executive committee Fail and I don't think anybody against forming committee and find common ground.

Again this issue was not misrepresent.

Hello Roozbeh,

It's my understanding that BizFed took it's position based on the information that the Westwood business community and the Westwood Village Improvement Association (BID) were united in opposition to the Westwood Forward effort to create a new neighborhood council. If this is correct, then BizFed was lead to act based on information that is not true.

The BID has not yet taken a position. Also, while it's not my role to advocate for other groups, I know members of the Wilshire-Westwood commercial corridor and Iranian-American business communities that support the proposed North Westwood Neighborhood Council.

Our Executive Committee did meet last week and the members discussed this item. The Committee determined to ask Westwood Forward and the Westwood Neighborhood Council to meet to attempt to find common ground, and then for the BID to agendize this item for our full Board to take a position.

To avoid misrepresentations in the future, I am asking you to direct any inquiries about BID positions to me. I am happy to share them with you.

Thank you for your email. I will read the Mission statement for Westwood Forward but again I am wondering why the Village is supposed to provide entertainment options, especially after UCLA built a student union building which has a book store and all kinds of food options and a roof top area. That building took business away from the Village when it was built.

My best,

Jann

Hey Jann,

I totally agree about all of the in-fighting and rude behavior. In addition to preventing any progress, these behaviors discourage "new blood" from becoming engaged. Sometimes when I invite people to attend WVIA meetings, they ask me if the "usual crowd" will be there. When I say yes, they say they don't want to come to the meeting. It's frustrating.

You should read the Westwood Forward message on their website. My summary of their effort is that it was born from frustration about housing and also lack of entertainment options in the Village. I believe they have an understanding about the Specific Plan, but I think they are looking at WWNC actions instead of pushing back against that particular document. There have been a lot of votes against happy hours, live entertainment, dancing, etc. Another trigger was that apparently the WWNC determined to extend their own terms and push back their next election.

Students are definitely the driving force, but we've seen a lot of business and property owner support join them. There are also homeowners that are tired of "business as usual" that also support them.

If nothing else, this has started an important conversation in our community. I think it's a good thing and long overdue.

Our Board has a policy of not taking positions on individual business or development. The UCLA residential hall is not only an individual development, but it's outside of our boundaries too. This is why we haven't heard it. Personally, I think our policy is a mistake. I believe our community is looking to us to be rational and reasonable custodians. It bothers me that we are on the sidelines, but this isn't going to change overnight.

Let's keep talking! I'm glad you're engaged.

Hi Jann,

My Board is still sorting through this item, and so am I.

Our Executive Committee discussed this issue last week. The recommendation they made is to essentially ask the different players to try to come together one last time before our Board meets in March. If the groups can't find some middle ground, then our Board will make a determination to either support or oppose (although it's possible they won't do anything too).

The one point of agreement among my Committee members is that the current way of doing things in Westwood is not sustainable. The Westwood Forward movement was born from that frustration. I don't think status quo is going to work going forward so I hope the current council seriously considers actions that will lead to change.

Have you been following this item closely? It's been pretty interesting.

I hope all is well! Let's try to get together soon.

Agenda Items

A. Westwood Forward

Andrew Thomas presented a comparison of the mission, boundaries, and council seat representation for the Westwood Neighborhood Council (WWNC) and the Westwood Forward-proposed North Westwood Neighborhood Council (NWNC). Andrew then presented the results of the staff review of WWNC positions relevant to the Westwood Business Improvement District (WBID) (see attached).

The Committee asked Lisa Chapman, president of the WWNC, and Michael Skiles of Westwood Forward to present on behalf of their respective organizations. Following these presentations, the Committee took public comment, and then allowed Lisa Chapman and Michael Skiles additional time for rebuttal.

The Committee discussed the Westwood Forward proposal to create a new neighborhood council, and acknowledged existing frustration in the business community regarding the current WWNC process. After discussion, Kevin Crummy made the motion, seconded by Jessica Dabney, to recommend to the WVIA Board that it support Westwood Forward and its effort to create the North Westwood Neighborhood Council. The motion did not pass (Yes: Kevin Crummy, Jessica Dabney)(No: Jim Brooks, Michael Beck, Kifishia Kawachi).

Michael Beck made the motion, seconded by Kifishia Kawachi, to ask Jim Brooks, Andrew Thomas, Lisa Chapman, and Michael Skiles to meet to discuss if an alternative to creating a new neighborhood council exists, and to dedicate the March 8, 2018 WVIA Board meeting to the discussion of the Westwood Forward effort to create the NWNC, and ask the WVIA Board to recommend a definitive outcome at this meeting. All in favor.

The meeting adjourned at 10:11 a.m.

The undersigned certify that these minutes were approved and adopted at the WVIA Executive Committee meeting on _____.

Dear Gibson,

As you can see from this email and the attached screenshots, Westwood Neighborhood Council member and Student Engagement Committee Chair Angus Beverly attempted to negotiate, on behalf of the Westwood Neighborhood Council, a deal with Westwood Forward, which would involve WWNC making significant concessions in exchange for Westwood Forward dropping its subdivision petition. Westwood Forward expressed disinterest in negotiating with him and he, thereupon, stated that he would hold no further student engagement committee meetings until and unless we negotiated.

While I would rather not publicly circulate these documents, unless they persist in denying that this happened, since I don't want to hurt Angus' reputation, I would encourage you to advise the WWNC as to whether holding meetings can legally and ethically be used as a bargaining chip to force constituents to the bargaining table. We have no interest in backroom deals and look forward to working with you as we move our subdivision petition forward to an election.

Indeed, I'm very sorry to see they didn't elect you. I worry that signals that, by a 8-10 margin, they're not ready to swing in a genuinely YIMBY direction, though David should follow up on ensuring that his sane voice is added to Land Use. Anyways, I worry friends that this means you aren't in a position to negotiate a compromise, since that vote suggests that any significant concessions would be shot down by a comparable margin. Do you share this dear, or am I mistaken?

*fear not dear haha

Angus

Actually I disagree

Some voted against me because im leaving in May

OK. Well then there's hope. Our group has just gotten the impression of a univocally hostile council since, when people like Gibson comes, everyone speaks against WF and nobody speaks for it. This makes us worry that we'd need to swing a large number of seats in order to hold any influence at all. But anyways, I look forward to a good chat on Tuesday and shall discuss with our leaders possible terms on Monday in preparation.

It was really incredible to see Resnick and Gabriel almost come to blows

Yah at this stage I'm graduating in spring. I may as well go extra hard on agenda items that I believe will help the community.

I concur! It's time for us to leave our legacy! We have big plans in our pipeline; can we talk sometime today either right after this event or else during?

Sure! I might have to do it over the phone if it's after bc I'm trying to get to Orange County before traffic is really bad. But sure let's do it!

WED 2:52PM

Time-wise, would WWNC be able to consider any item we put forward on Monday?

I doubt it theres typically a 72 hour issue, to be honest. If I can keep this between you, I'm thinking about canceling the meeting and wanting to speak to the westwood forward campaign staff about making a deal. I just don't see the point of the committee if we won't settle on meeting to discuss actual student issues.

The Westwood Forward group consensus is that it doesn't like backroom deals and is skeptical that a majority of WWNC would be willing to vote to enact concessions that would significantly reduce our ability to engage with the community.

would accomplish anything near what we are about to achieve electorally. Hence their unanimous vote that I send you and David the letter that I did.

I'm happy to discuss this with you by phone.

Omon Michael GSA and USAC should know the difference between preliminary discussions and "backroom deals" ill talk over the phone perhaps tonight.

Dear David and Angus,

On behalf of Westwood Forward, we thank you for approaching us and stating your openness to seeing the Westwood Neighborhood Council make significant reforms towards more equitably representing its constituents. However, before our coalition invests the time and energy into considering what, if any, hypothetical bylaw changes might suffice to address the concerns of our community, we think that it is important that you establish that you are in a position to negotiate on behalf of the council. Given that the council voted against your selection as Land Use Chair and also repeatedly refused to consider our requests for online voting or a 2018 selection, we worry that those who would consider affecting the meaningful changes our community needs are in the minority. To allay these concerns we would request either 1) that the WWNC pass a resolution authorizing you to negotiate on its behalf or 2) that you send us a public letter signed by a majority of WWNC members affirming that they would be willing to consider significant bylaw changes and holding a 2018 selection.

Good Morning Michael,

Hope this email finds you well.

Aaron Green and I are with the Afriat Consulting Group, which represents business and community groups on issues related to local government. We represent some business stakeholders in Westwood and are interested in learning more about the proposed plans to create a new Westwood Neighborhood Council.

We are hoping we can set up a time to speak to you about the proposed plans of UCLA students to establish their own neighborhood council. If you would be kind enough to let us know when you might be available for a call, we certainly would appreciate it.

Thank you and our best.

Hi, Michael --

I saw an article from last summer in the Daily Bruin that quotes you as being active in the efforts to make Westwood more student-centric. I'd love to talk with you.

We have been looking at "opportunities" in Westwood for years. I don't know if you've heard of Woodstock's, but we are in six major university markets in California. With the vibrant student community at UCLA, this market makes a lot of sense for us. What doesn't make sense is some of the ridiculous restrictions to doing business in this community. It's a shame and very polarizing.

My cell is [REDACTED]. I'd like to talk with you about the efforts we hear are being spearheaded by some of the students.

Also, I'd like to flip the agenda around so Westwood Forward can be first and we can get that out of the way if that's cool. Lisa from the WWNC and Michael Skiles from Westwood Forward will be present. We can talk more about this Friday before or after our Faisal call.

Thanks!

Bettina was there too. She had to hold me back. It was classic. Philip opened by saying that a bunch of kids were trying to gerrymander Westwood and that he wasn't going to have 18 year olds telling him how to run his business. He never mentioned that he was on the WWNC or that his wife is president. Sandy then went on to talk about how the "mostly students" just want affordable housing, that they have been attending the WWNC meetings and "shouting" at the WWNC and that it wasn't the WWNC's role. She said that she had a stake holder seat on the WWNC but downplayed what they do, said that really the WW Neighborhood Councils didn't do much other than give away funds and was just advisory. NO mention of the land use committee, the projects that she opposes or any of the real issues that you are fighting for. Very quick comment that the students want more control over the nightlife. She said that Westwood Forward wanted to carve up the communities and take them away from the existing WWNC without any outreach and said that her friend Terry T over in Westwood Hills needs HW support. What a show! Had I been uninformed and on that board, I would have bought it and the board totally did.... no real information was provided, they were totally manipulated.

Philip Gabriel and Sandy Brown spoke about Westwood Forward at tonight's meeting. Philip made a motion that the board write a letter to neighborhood empowerment protesting the formation of the NWNC and the "carving up of the neighborhoods". Sandy supported this adding that the WWNC doesn't do much other than give away money. Philip and Sandy both led the group to believe that the NWNC will be taking over Westwood Hills. No real discussion was had and the only information provided was half truths and a lot of false info. They both told the board that no outreach has been done to our community. The board voted to write the letter based on misleading and false information.

We would recommend that you contact Sandy and get on the agenda of the next HWPOA meeting if you want to set the record
